1. Translation

Spanish regulations require all documents issued abroad to be accompanied by a certified translation into Spanish for them to be effective in Spain.

Which documents do I need to have translated by an official interpreter to apply for financial assistance?

All those indicated in the notice for applications only as “Administrative documentation”.

Such translation by an official interpreter may be done:

- a) By an official interpreter in your country of origin duly authorized and registered in Spain (you can consult a list here)

- b) By any diplomatic or consular representation of Spain abroad.

Spanish embassies and consulates do not normally offer translation services. More commonly, they certify the “correctness” of translations produced by other means by affixing a stamp to the document.

In order to carry out this kind of translation, you must contact the Spanish embassy or consulate in order to receive information on the steps to be taken.

- c) By the diplomatic or consular representation in Spain of the country of which the applicant is a citizen or, if appropriate, the country of origin of the document.

2. Certified Copies

A certified copy is one that has been compared with the original document and stamped to attest its accuracy.

For the purposes of this notice for applications, certified copies must be stamped by a public servant at the Spanish Embassy or Consulate.

Tips:

Retain all original documents in case you need to use the translation again in future. Certified translations of public documents by an official interpreter render them valid for any other steps needed vis-à-vis the Public Administration in Spain. It is, therefore, recommendable that you send only certified copies to Spain. Such certified copies can be made through a proxy at the embassies and consular representations of Spain in your country.

Whenever possible, sign the contract with the author or publisher, the contract with the translator and the receipt for payment directly in Spanish. This will avoid the need to incur the cost of having them translated by an official interpreter.

Justification of the subsidy received by the Publisher:

1. The publishing company has a term of 2 years counted from the date of publication in Spain’s Official State Gazette (“Boletín Oficial del Estado”) of the resolution granting the award for the publication of the work. The publishing company may request an extension of one year if there are reasonable grounds.

2. Once the book has been published, the publishing company must send the “Subdirección General de Promoción del Libro, Lectura y Letras Españolas” (Subdirector General for the Promotion of Spanish Books, Reading and Letters, Calle Santiago Rusiñol 8, in 28040 Madrid) the following documentation in Spanish (draft forms will be available from the web site)

- * A brief report on the actions implemented, containing a description of the publishing project.
- * A document accrediting that the publishing company has paid the translator for the cost of the translation using either the corresponding receipt or another document with sufficient value as proof.

- * A signed declaration by the beneficiary setting out any other possible income or subsidies that have funded the activity, with an indication of the amount and origin of the same.
- * Two copies of the work as published, which must contain the following texts expressly on the book's credit pages:
 - › TITLE of the work and its AUTHOR in Spanish .
 - › Name of the translator(s).
 - › Logo of the Ministry together with the following text in the language in which the work is published:

 GOBIERNO DE ESPAÑA	MINISTERIO DE EDUCACIÓN, CULTURA Y DEPORTE	“This work has been published with a subsidy from the Ministry of Education, Culture and Sport of Spain”
